Message from the Founder KIIT & KISS

KIIT - Educational Excellence with Human Face

It was indeed a proud privilege for KIIT Deemed to be University to host the 39th World Congress of Poets in its golden jubilee year. This was only the third time this prestigious meet was organised in India. To the delight of the poet-delegates from over 80 countries, the Congress, which had ‘Compassion through Poetry’ as its theme, commenced on 2nd October, the 150th Birth Anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi. Legacy of Mahatma Gandhi to the world was remembered in the most befitting manner as the multinational delegates paid tribute at his newly-unveiled statue in KIIT depicting the famous ‘Dandi March’. A host of dignitaries graced the meet and shared their wisdom on the rich poetic traditions of India and Odisha. ‘Tourism Poetry’ was held in Konark and ‘Spiritual Poetry’ in Puri, which afforded the delegates a chance to experience the rich culture and heritage of India and Odisha first hand. For five days of the Congress, the whole environment reverberated with the positive vibes calling for compassion in the world that is lost in the materialistic humdrums. In the words of Dr. Maurus Young, President, World Congress of Poets, this year’s Congress was the best ever in its history.

Editorial

Odisha and the host, Kalinga Institute of Industrial Technology (KIIT) Deemed to be University, can take pride in delivering a very successful 39th World Congress of Poets, which was held only for the third time in India. In the words of Dr. Maurus Young, President, World Congress of Poets: "World Congress of Poets is a 50 years old organization and during this time it has organised 39 world congresses.

The 39th World Congress of Poets has been the best organised of all sessions". It was a matter of pride not only for the State, but for the country as well to host this prestigious meet with participation from eminent poets and writers from 82 countries. Legacy of Mahatma Gandhi to the world was remembered in the most befitting manner as delegates from 82 countries paid tribute to the epitome of truth and non-violence on the occasion of his 150th birth anniversary celebration, which coincided with the inauguration of the 39th WCP. Many high dignitaries, including Shri M. Venkaiah Naidu, Hon'ble Vice President of India, Prof. Ganeshi Lal, Hon'ble Governor of Odisha, and Shri Naveen Patnaik, Hon'ble Chief Minister of Odisha, graced the five-day meet on different days, throwing light of ancient poetic tradition of the state and country and their rich heritage. Theme of the Congress, 'Compassion through Poetry', was appropriate as the Congress coincided with the 150th birth anniversary celebration of Mahatma Gandhi. It was also relevant in the context of the host institution, KIIT Deemed to be University, which prides itself in being the 'University of Compassion and Humanity'. Led by its visionary Founder, Prof. Achyuta Samanta, KIIT has evolved around this principle to become a leading university in the country.

Recently, Govt. of India has recognised it as an 'Institution of Eminence'. This principle also finds expression in Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences (KISS), a fully-free and fully-residential institute for 60,000 indigenous (tribal) children. It is the largest such institute in the world aptly nicknamed 'world's largest anthropological lab'.

registered in United States of America and recognized by UNESCO, is a venerable and prestigious international poetry organization, with more than 1,200 members from 65 countries spread over five continents. Its noble founding objective is to promote world brotherhood and peace through poetry. Coincidentally, 2019 is the Golden Jubilee year of WCP and, therefore, the meet carried special significance.

This year the Congress was held on the theme 'Compassion through Poetry'. About 1000 eminent poets and writers from 82 countries attended the meet.

Drawing link between poetry and compassion, Shri Naidu said, "I believe compassion is innate to all of us. We just have to realize it and practice it consciously till it becomes

Speech of Shri M. Venkaiah Naidu, Hon'ble Vice President of India at the 39th World Congress of Poets

I am delighted to be here today amidst such talented and passionate poets from various countries and all parts of India for the valedictory ceremony of the World Congress of Poets (WCP).

I am happy to be at Kalinga Institute of Industrial Technology (KIIT) and Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences (KISS). With over 27,000 students from across the country and abroad, this institution is growing from strength to strength. I am happy to know that it has received several international and national awards and accolades for its abiding commitment to excellence.

Dedicated efforts of Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences to educate children from tribal communities are also truly noteworthy. I congratulate KIIT for being awarded the 'Status of Eminence' for its dedication to the cause of quality education for all. I also take this opportunity to congratulate and appreciate the dynamic founder of KIIT, Shri Achyuta Samanta. His relentless endeavors towards reforming and transforming lives of millions of Adivasi people are truly commendable.

I also commend him for envisioning poetry as the best medium to promote brotherhood and peace. It is this vision of his that has brought all of us here together to celebrate thoughts, words, languages, rhythm and meaning.

It is a matter of great pride for us that the Congress is happening in India this year, in the beautiful and historical state of Odisha. I am absolutely touched by the theme of this conference "Compassion through Poetry".

I believe compassion is innate to all of us. We just have to realize it and practice it consciously till it becomes our habit and all our actions subconsciously exhibit compassion, kindness and positivity. Compassion is central to poetry.

The first verse of the Adi-Kavya, Ramayana starts with the utterance of 'ma nishada', Sage Valmiki's compassionate appeal to the hunter to spare the life of a bird. It is his 'shoka' or his despair at the loss of a precious life that became 'shloka' or poetry.

Compassion begets compassion.

This extremely important idea, when propagated through the powerful medium of poetry, attains the capability to change the world.

I welcome poets who have come from all over the world to Odisha. I am sure that you will carry wonderful memories of this Congress and your experiences in India.

My dear sisters and brothers,

Poetry is one of the finest expressions of human emotions. It conveys the deepest insights, wide range of emotions and elevates human experience to highest levels of consciousness. What is however important is to recognize its impact on the inner chemistry of human emotions. How we perceive, how we respond and how we behave – all this is shaped by literature and fine arts to a large extent. Among the literary forms, poetry has a specially profound influence.

Poetry is not just expression; it is an expression that has beauty in it. Poets do not just express themselves in mere words but paint images with their words. They breathe life into words with rhyme, rhythm and melody.

Poetry speaks of deep feelings, creates stunning images and beautiful lyricism and blends truth with beauty. India's tryst with poetry is as old as the civilization itself. Poetry flourished in ancient India.

The great Indian epics Ramayana and Mahabharata are considered to be among the finest specimens of poetry ever written.

They are celebrated not just in India but all over the world for the grandeur of their themes, the extraordinary literary heights and the depth of the messages they convey.

These epics are considered to be treasure houses of India's traditions and great encyclopedias of ethics, religion, politics and morals.

India has a long illustrious poetic tradition and includes such luminaries like Kalidasa, Mira Bai, Tulsī Das, Amir Khusro, Kabir Das, Sarojini Naidu, Subrahmanya Bharati, Mirza Ghalib and Shri Rabindranath Tagore mesmerized one and all with their poetic genius.

Let me recall what Mark Twain had said about India – "India is the cradle of the human race, the birthplace of human speech, the mother of history, the grandmother of legend and the great grandmother of tradition.

My dear sisters and brothers,

I believe that it is crucial to promote arts and culture in order to build an enlightened and healthy society.

Arts nurture creativity in the society. Without a creative voice, a society will become stagnant.

Biologists have argued that the development of creativity was the most important step in human evolution, and that society cannot move forward without creative people.

Artists enliven lives. Some artists transform our lives. They change our perception, our world view.

Artists are very often the conscience keepers of a society. They constantly question the absurd and the illogical and help instill positive values in society.

"Dedicated efforts of Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences to educate children from tribal communities are noteworthy. I congratulate KIIT for being awarded the 'Status of Eminence' for its dedication to the cause of quality education for all. I also take this opportunity to congratulate and appreciate the dynamic founder of KIIT, Shri Achyuta Samanta. His relentless endeavors towards reforming and transforming lives of millions of Adivasi people are truly commendable".

By sharing common cultural threads, art unites hearts. It brings out latent human characteristics to the force.

Poetry is a powerful vehicle of intergenerational transmission of values and knowledge. Songs and poetry have been used to pass on traditional wisdom and lessons in morals and values from generation to generation. Indian tradition has relied on poetry for transmission of wisdom and even scientific knowledge.

More than anything else, poetry has the capability to change attitudes, mindset and social norms. If we aim at a more compassionate world, poetry can be one of the most powerful instruments.

Dear sisters and brothers,

I am glad to be amidst so many poets. Each and every one of

We need poets and writers and artists and singers as much as we need doctors, engineers and scientists.

Promotion of literature is also an impactful method to preserve and promote languages, a cause that is very close to my heart.

The best way to preserve or promote any language is to use it extensively in everyday life. More and more people should be encouraged to write poetry, stories, novels and dramas in their native languages.

I hope events such as the World Conference of Poets will serve as platforms for sharing your poetic masterpieces with the world. At the same time, I am confident that this event would inspire budding poets to get inspiration from other poets.

Let me conclude with a statement made by a famous Indian poet

you present here has the capability to be an influencer and opinion-maker.

You have the unique potential to shape thoughts, feelings and attitudes. I am confident that you will use this tremendous power at your disposal to build a better world.

Poetry should promote peace, motivate people to cultivate universal brotherhood, social harmony and tolerance. Poetry can serve as a powerful catalyst that could hasten the process of social transformation.

I urge schools to make poetry reading and appreciation a compulsory part of the curriculum.

I also ask universities to encourage literature, arts and humanities education.

Mammata. When he was asked as to why he wrote poetry, he said, "I write for earning name and becoming famous. I write to earn my living. But, above all this, I write because I believe I can change the ways of the world by reducing negativity and whatever is not good for humanity."

Poetry speaks of deep feelings, creates stunning images and beautiful lyricism and blends truth with beauty. India's tryst with poetry is as old as the civilization itself. Poetry flourished in ancient India.

I do hope that larger public good will serve as the underlying, unseen but undiminished source of inspiration as you continue to weave the silken threads of poetry and enthrall as well enlighten multitudes of people across the world. I wish you all the very best.

Thank You!

Jai Hind!

Speech of Shri Naveen Patnaik, Hon'ble Chief Minister of Odisha at the 39th World Congress of Poets

It is heartening to be here at the 39th Session of World Congress of Poets. I welcome all of you to the temple city Bhubaneswar. Today, we are celebrating the 150th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, the epitome of peace and non-violence. As the World Congress of Poets is all about promotion of poetry as a natural and vital network connecting poets to the world's need for cooperation and peace; for us here, creativity coupled with peace and non-violence is taking new strides.

Since time immemorial, poetry has been the expression of humanity. Poets across the globe, irrespective of their boundaries, have kept alive human values all around us. In India, from ancient times, our poets have vividly depicted our social systems, values and have played a very significant role in the socio-political transformation of our country.

Odisha is a land of cultural pluralism. It has a rich and enviable tradition of poetry. From Sarala Das to Jagannath Das, from Bhimabhoi to Baladev Rath, from Gangadhar Meher to Radhanath Ray, from Mayadhar Mansingh and Kuntala Kumari Sabat to Sachi Routray, our great poets have immensely contributed to enrich Odia literature, challenging social prejudices, advocating empowerment and promoting human virtues. This creative flow of expression continues unabated.

The worldview in the immortal lines of our 19th century poet Bhima Bhoi – "Let my soul be subjected to sufferings in the hell, but the world be resurrected" - is now illuminating and igniting million minds in the UNO headquarters. Today, our innumerable poets are illuminating our ways to empowerment.

In the 150th year of the Mahatma, we are, in fact, celebrating the quintessence of basic human values, peace and non-violence. In our attempts at a global society free from prejudice and a new Social Order in the path of peace and non-violence, our poets, can alone create the kind of empathy that it needs. I would, therefore, urge all here to give it a thought. I very strongly believe that poetry has the power to change, to transform and bring in a better social order.

I, once again, welcome all the delegates to Odisha and wish you all a pleasant stay in Odisha.

Thank you.

Oration of KISS' Girl Delights Audience

Tikili, a six-year old girl from Kandhamal studying in Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences (KISS), became an overnight internet sensation after her short poem and oration on Gandhiji went viral on social media recently. In no time, her oration garnered more than 1 million views and likes. She recited her oration at the main event of the second day at the 39th World Congress of Poets to the audience's delight. Translation of her oration is produced here.

*Mahatma, you sowed the seed of non-violence all over,
Lit the fire of revolution in the hearts for our motherland,
Stirred us with the spirit of patriotic fervor,
Led the protest against the cruel British Rulers.*

Draped in a swadeshi dhoti well above his knees, holding a club and a watch along the waistline, a spectacled old man often emerges before us in form of Babu - the Father of the Nation. Before his steadfastness, the mighty and autocratic British Empire had to give up. With his doctrine of non-violence, he had embraced the people from across India. Today being inspired by the Gandhian philosophy of non-violence and philanthropy, our beloved Achyuta Samanta Sir has created Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences (KISS), and also KIIT, and has brought smile on the faces of 30000 innocent and deprived children.

Odisha is Wonderland of Pluralism: Shri R. Balakrishnan

On the third day of the 39th World Congress of Poets, being hosted by Kalinga Institute of Industrial Technology (KIIT) Deemed to be University, Bhubaneswar, writers and poets from 82 countries participated in the 'Tourism Poetry' session at Konark Sun Temple. Special Lecture by Shri R. Balakrishnan, Chief Advisor, Chief Minister's Office, Odisha on the topic 'Konark – The Known and the Unknown' was the main attraction of the day. Konark Sun Temple is a multi-layered odyssey and a magnificent example of Kalinga architecture, he said.

Among other well-known specialties, the temple has the icon of Sun God wearing a horse rider's high shoes, a giraffe in Konark panels and two genetic types of elephants on the walls of Konark, elaborated Shri Balakrishnan, who is also a noted Indologist. Welcoming the poet-delegates to Odisha, he said, "Poetry is an important medium to promote art, culture, tradition and tourism. Odisha is a wonderland of pluralism as mentioned in the Puranas. The state is rich in art, culture and tradition".

He urged the poets to promote Odisha's art, culture and tradition through poetry in their languages so that people across the world would know about Odisha's rich heritage. There are many monumental tourist spots in Odisha like Konark. These monumental tourist spots need to be promoted. Konark is the best monumental work of the world, he added.

Shri R. Balakrishnan, a retired Indian Administrative Service (IAS) officer, has published books and journals on history especially that of Odisha and Indus Valley Civilization. Because of his scholarly reflections and discoveries on Indus Valley Civilization, he has also been awarded Doctor of Letters (Honoris Causa) by Periyar Maniammal University. His research papers on Konark; ancient links between Kalinga and Indonesia; Genesis of Sun Worship in Odisha; and plural foundations of Jagannath Culture, etc. have brought many unknown facets of Odishan history to world intelligentsia-forum. He has also guided and shaped many important Government publications like "The Cultural Atlas of Odisha", "Charles Grome's Report on the Temple on Jagannath", "Nabakalebara-2015 - A Visual Grandeur", "80 Years of Odisha Budget" and "Listening Window" of OKH Lecture series. His recent book 'Abadha Padachinha' is the Odia translation of his research articles on Odisha. Prof. Ernesto

Spiritual Poetry

Spiritual poetry is the guiding force to our life: Shri H. N. Dikshit, Hon'ble Speaker, U.P. Legislative Assembly

I have marked pleasure in everyone's face in this World Congress of Poets, said Shri Hriday Narayan Dikshit, Hon'ble Speaker, Uttar Pradesh Legislative Assembly at the 'Spiritual Poetry' event of the 39th World Congress of Poets at Puri on October 5, 2019. The event also featured talk by Dr. Dilip Naik, Professor, English & Foreign Language University, Hyderabad

Delivering his lecture to the multinational delegates on the fourth day of 39th World Congress of Poets, Shri Dikshit stated, "India itself is a poetry. There is no poetry like India in any other civilization or land. The river, mountain, forest everything in India is the source of poetry. These are the image of poetry. There is similarity between Odisha and Northern India. Odisha is so beautiful in all respect like Northern India. Every state of India, languages, cultures, traditions all are poetry".

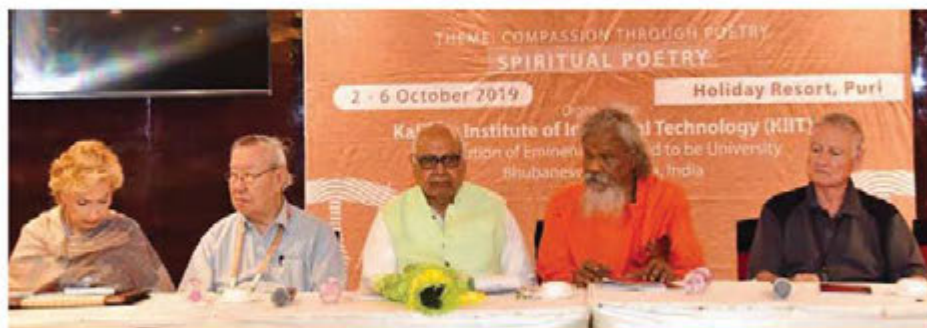

Elaborating on the subject, he said, "Rigveda is one of the most ancient poetry of the world. The source of poetry is written in Rigveda. Poetry is the Super Soul. Spiritual poetry is the connection between mortal and immortal, 'Brahma' and 'Param Brahma'. Where there is poetry, there is God. In India there are so many ancient poets and poetries. Spiritual poetry is the guiding force of our life".

Shri Hriday Narayan Dikshit is a leading exponent of Vedic literature and Indian culture in modern India. He has written more than 30 books on Indian philosophy, politics, literature and other subjects. More than 5000 of his articles have been published in various national and international newspapers.

In his talk titled "What does Poetry Make?", Dr. Dilip Naik delved upon this complex question with inferences from writings of some of the greatest poets of all times. He compared the views of famous poets over the ages – Osip Mandelstam, Adorno, Auden and others - on this question. For Mandelstam, poetry was the bread of the soul, not only for the poet himself but for the people as a whole. "What poetry makes is not a thing or a change in the objective world. But it is an event of consciousness, and in that which is not visible, that transgresses the limits of reason, that hopes against the tyranny of facts, it is this hope that keeps us significantly alive, keeps us human, for it has been said that we do not live by bread alone. Poetry is thus a hymn to the dawn of consciousness", Dr. Naik stated.

So what poetry makes happen is not an historical event. It gifts the possibility of a different form of life, a metahistory of experience which emanates from the intersection of time with the timeless. Poetry enables us to trust in the grace of existence, he concluded.

Among others, Dr. Maurus Young, President, World Congress of Poets; Prof. Ernesto Kahan, First Vice President, World Academy of Arts & Culture (WAAC), USA; Dr. Maria Eugenia Soberanis, General Secretary; and Dr. Prasanna Kumar Patasani, Former Member of Parliament, Poet and Writer were present on the occasion.

KSOM Organizes 10th National Finance Conclave

Inaugural ceremony of 10th National Finance Conclave at KIIT School of Management on October 19, 2019.

KIIT School of Management (KSOM) organized its 10th National Finance Conclave with the theme 'Getting to $5 Trillion: Navigating the Financial Landscape' on October 19, 2019. Prof. Sudipto Mundle, Distinguished Fellow, NCEAR and Emeritus Professor, National Institute of Public Finance and Policy, New Delhi delivered the keynote address titled, 'An inclusive strategy for reviving growth in India'.

"The growth slowdown we are experiencing is indeed quite serious. What is required now is a macroeconomic strategy to quickly revive aggregate demand in the short run, while initiating structural reforms over the long run. The strategy has to take into account a very challenging external economic environment", Prof. Mundle remarked. The RBI has attempted to revive demand repeatedly cutting the Repo rate and taken other measures to ease the availability of credit. With monetary policy having limited edition, the main burden of growth stimulation must therefore fall on fiscal policy. Whenever issues of Public expenditure are discussed we often hear that there is no fiscal space to undertake this or that measure, added Prof. Mundle.

The Government now needs to muster the political courage to initiate deep fiscal reforms. Such reforms could create enough fiscal space to substantially increase pro-poor spending and revive growth, while reducing the fiscal deficit and without increase in tax rates. Finally the balance of newly created fiscal space could be used for further fiscal consolidation, i.e., to reduce the fiscal deficit, he explained.

In the Panel Discussion Session, Mr. Rahul Bajoria, Chief Economist, Barclays Investment Bank laid focus on Demand-Supply Management Perspective. "Economic measurement is below the par in true sense. It would be the turnaround of the Government to cogitate on demand slowdown. The Govt. should put much concern on Structural Income, Efficiency of Public Sector Enterprises, Problem of Tax Structure apart from addressing Demand Slowdown", added Mr. Bajoria. Mr. Piyus Garg, EVP & CIO, ICICI Securities said that consumption has slowed down, while saving went down.

Mr. Sougato Bhattacharya, Chief Economist, Axis Bank elucidated how GDP growth rate has been stunted. Role of foreign capital credit has to be effective. There should be a broader policy target, but in tandem it is an extremely difficult task to chase that target, he said.

Mr. Pramod Kasat from Ex-Indusland Investment Banking highlighted on some key components of growth for which 5 factors play very significant role. Having the largest number of young people in the world, India boasts of huge opportunities. Secondly India has world's largest Mass Origination Movements, Technological Advancements, Mass Consumption and Financial Inclusion. Commissioning of these five factors will lead us towards long term opportunity in a very strong way. Reforming Financial Market is very important. Government needs to focus more on the sector of Sustainable Energy, Mass Education and Health, in order to attain $ 5 Trillion Dollar economy, he added. Ms. Mythilli Bhusurmth, Consulting Editor, The Economic Times coordinated the Panel Discussion as the moderator.

Earlier, Prof. S.N. Mishra, Dean, KIIT School of Management said that in India today there is an interesting amalgamation of political euphoria combined with efficiency. Prof. Hrushikesh Mohanty, VC, KIIT-DU welcomed the delegates and dignitaries and placed his view on Nation's financial scenario in a nutshell.
